To NCCNA XLII Registrants:

This letter is to share information with you as to what is to come in the next couple of months now that the NCCNA XLII Convention has been cancelled. For now, the Northern California Region is unable to offer refunds. The final decision on refunds and the details of those refunds will be made by the Regional Service Committee (RSC), but that decision cannot be made until several things happen first. We, the NCCNA Committee, will be focusing our attention on working out the numbers; this includes knowing exactly how much in unrecoverable expenses has already been paid, as well as how much we still owe. We will come up with proposals of how to proceed financially and bring them to the RSC for their review and decision. This process will take some time but, rest assured, the Region will be working diligently to come up with the best possible solution as swiftly as we can.

All pre-registration merchandise has been bought and paid for and we are working out the details of how to get those items to those who ordered them.

NCCNA updates will continue to be posted on both of the following websites:

- https://norcalna.org/nccna.php
- https://www.facebook.com/groups/815248898904783/

We are aware that, to some members, the lack of answers at this time will be a small disappointment. However, rest assured that we are working as quickly as possible to come to a solution to these hurdles. Thank you for your continued patience in this matter as we, your fellow recovering-addicts, continue to do our best in navigating this unchartered territory. NCCNA will continue to keep the fellowship informed of any updates as they come up.

Sincerely,

NCCNA XLII Committee
