

Target Audience #1:

Your county has a program in which social workers are dispatched to hospital emergency rooms to make contact with addicts receiving emergency medical treatment for drug overdoses, abscesses, liver failure, kidney failure, endocarditis, and other medical conditions directly related to drug abuse.

Target Audience #2:

Anytime someone is admitted to the local behavioral health unit for an acute mental health crisis, a social worker comes to visit them during their stay to make sure they are appropriately connected to resources and services to help them not experience another mental health crisis after they are released.

Target Audience #3:

Social workers assessing eligibility for cash aid, food stamps, housing vouchers, utility assistance, and other services often encounter applicants whose financial problems are linked to substance use.

Target Audience #4:

Social workers tasked with protecting children from abuse and neglect often work closely with families which have been impacted by the actions of suffering addicts in one way or another.

Target Audience #1:

Your county has a program in which social workers are dispatched to hospital emergency rooms to make contact with addicts receiving emergency medical treatment for drug overdoses, abscesses, liver failure, kidney failure, endocarditis, and other medical conditions directly related to drug abuse.

Target Audience #2:

Anytime someone is admitted to the local behavioral health unit for an acute mental health crisis, a social worker comes to visit them during their stay to make sure they are appropriately connected to resources and services to help them not experience another mental health crisis after they are released.

Target Audience #3:

Social workers assessing eligibility for cash aid, food stamps, housing vouchers, utility assistance, and other services often encounter applicants whose financial problems are linked to substance use.

Target Audience #4:

Social workers tasked with protecting children from abuse and neglect often work closely with families which have been impacted by the actions of suffering addicts in one way or another.